All Stuffed Up

That's the condition of many sufferers from catarrh, especially in the morning. Great difficulty is experienced in clearing the head and throat.

No wonder catarrh causes headache, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, pollutes the breath, changes the stomach and affects the appetite.

To cure catarrh, treatment must be constitutional—effective and tonic. "I was afflicted with catarrh. I took medicines of different kinds, giving each a fair trial; but gradually grew worse until I could hardly hear, taste or smell. I then concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking five bottles I was cured and have not had any return of the disease since." EUGENE FORBES, Lebanon, Kan.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures catarrh—it soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane and builds up the whole system.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. R. C. Grammer, the proprietor of a drug store of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I told her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale in a large measure to the personal recommendation of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by all druggists.

HANGING FIRE.

Department May Force the Postoffices Out.

Congressman Allen Notified That a Complication Has Arisen in the Matter.

The postoffice department has ruled that Rural Routes will not be established unless postoffices of the fourth class in the territory affected are discontinued. This is causing a serious delay in the Church Hill and Newstead routes, as the people objected to the discontinuance of the Church Hill and Beverly offices.

Congressman Allen sends us the following letter which explains the matter:

"Washington, D. C., Oct. 14, 1901.
"Hon. H. D. Allen, M. C.,
"Morganfield, Ky.

Sir:
"I have your letter of October 9th, stating that you do not concur in the discontinuance of the postoffice at Church Hill, recommended abolishment of the proposed Rural Free Delivery Service from Hopkinsville, Kentucky, and have noted carefully the statements you make with regard to the matter.

"In reply I have the honor to inform you that no action will be taken by the Department looking toward the establishment of Rural Free Delivery from Hopkinsville, or the discontinuance of the Post Office at Church Hill, The Square and Beverly, until you have been consulted with regard to the matter.

"Very respectfully,
"J. M. MASTEN,
"Acting First Assistant Postmaster General."

Mr. Allen also writes the KENTUCKIAN as follows:

I herewith enclose you copy of letter just received by me from the Acting First Assistant Postmaster General, which I should like for you to give place in your paper. I shall hold myself in readiness to do whatever is best for the greatest number of people at the places named in the matter of the discontinuance of the postoffices, and should like very much to have them agree among themselves as to what they desire.

Yours very truly,
H. D. ALLEN.

The local postmaster has also been notified that the new service depends upon the discontinuance of the postoffices. As this ruling is a new one, Mr. Allen wishes the people interested to settle among themselves which course they desire him to pursue.

JAS. E. CROFT

Passes Away at His Home at Crofton.

One of the Best Citizens of the County, Whose Place Will Be Hard to Fill.

Mr. Jas. E. Croft, the most prominent citizen in the northern half of Christian county, died at an early hour Friday morning, at his home in Crofton, a town founded by him and named in his honor.

Mr. Croft has been in bad health for several years. Last year he had a severe attack of dropsy, from which he obtained relief. On the 23rd of September he suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time had been in a hopeless condition. He also had rheumatism of the heart and other complications which made his recovery impossible.

Jas. E. Croft was born in Christian county, Jan. 19, 1839. He was a son of Wm. G. and Mary McKinney Croft. His father came from South Carolina, coming with his grand-father in childhood. His grandfather came from England and carried on a hatters trade when he first came to Kentucky and also engaged in farming.

The subject of this sketch attended the county schools until he was 20 years old and then taught school for two years. Later he engaged in merchandising at what subsequently became the town of Crofton.

When the railroad came, Mr. Croft laid out the town and erected many buildings. He owned and operated for years a flour mill, saw mill, tobacco factory and mercantile establishment. His brother was associated with him in the tobacco business.

At his own expense he built a handsome school building for his town and later became the largest stockholder in the Crofton Academy, completed in 1883.

Mr. Croft was married Oct. 2, 1862, to Miss Eliza E. Bourland. They reared four children, two of whom, with the grief-stricken widow, survive him.

The funeral was preached Saturday by Rev. W. B. Wright, pastor of the Christian church, of which he was a member. The body was laid to rest in the Crofton burying ground, one mile from Crofton. The deceased was a lifelong and consistent member of the Christian church and was a leader in church matters, as he was in business affairs.

He was liberal, charitable and benevolent and spent money freely to build up his town and benefit his people.

He was a Democrat in politics, but was wonderfully popular with men of all parties. He was never at any time an office-seeker.

The present fusion candidate for Sheriff, Mr. Geo. B. Croft, who is a Republican, is a half-brother of Mr. Croft, and his brother, A. B. Croft, is also a Republican.

Mr. Croft leaves an estate estimated at from $40,000 to $50,000. He was the richest man in his section of the county. His property in farm lands, town lots, bank stock and investments.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers; they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from the waste of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Send us your name free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.

The factory is a commodious structure and is fitted with the most improved machinery. The Eggletons are all tobacco men of experience, the senior member of the firm, Mr. J. H. Eggleton, having been in the business for nearly half a century, and it is safe to predict that they will enjoy a largely increased business, now that they are better prepared to handle the weed. Mr. J. L. Long drew up the plans for the new building.

WINFREE A WINNER.

Has Never Lost a Battle in 19 Years.

Has Twice Overcome An Adversary Majority And Been Elected Judge.

Judge Wm. P. Winfree, in the opinion of many well informed politicians, will receive a larger majority than any other candidate on the fusion ticket.

The Judge is an old campaigner who knows every road in the county and he is traveling over most of them, and finding supporters on all of them. He has not been a strict party man for years and consequently has strong friends in all parties.

His career has been an interesting and an honorable one.

He is the oldest of a family of 14 children and was born in Sumner county, Tenn., in 1843. When five years old he came with his father, S. T. Winfree, to this county and grew to boyhood on a farm near Hopkinsville. When a boy of 18 he entered the Confederate army enlisting in Co. "H," 18th Ky., Cavalry. He made a brave soldier and participated in the bloody battles of Perryville, Chickamauga and Winchester. At the latter place he was wounded while fighting gallantly for the Lost Cause.

After the war he studied law and located in this city. He has lived here ever since, excepting one year when he lived in Kansas and edited a newspaper at Pleasanton. In 1882 he made his first race for office as a democratic nominee and defeated Judge A. V. Long, Republican. He made a most popular official and was re-elected in 1886, defeating Mr. A. H. Anderson, then as now the Republican leader of the county. His record in the county judge's office for eight years was one of efficiency, strict integrity and courteous treatment of all the people alike. He made a broad-minded upright judge.

Later he served as Master Commissioner under both Judge Grace and Judge Linn, holding this responsible position for several years. He also served a term as City Treasurer and held numerous other places of trust and honor.

Like many good Democrats who have since returned to their party, Judge Winfree was a gold Democrat in 1896 and he is the personal representative on the fusion ticket of probably 300 Democrats who failed to support the national ticket. These voters are all helping to rescue the county from Big Game this year and will not only vote for Judge Winfree but support the whole ticket. With these voters added to the Bryan vote of 1900 there will be 3,600 Democrats in a total of 7,800 votes, leaving the normal Republican majority about 600, what it used to be. When we take from the Republican vote at least 800 votes and perhaps 1,500 that they will lose this year, it shows how utterly hopeless their contest is this year. Judge Winfree will get many additional votes among the colored people, by reason of the fact that his opponent has harnessed himself by advertising the fact that his father voted against a colored nominee in 1890, the present nominee being at that time under 21 years of age.

Judge Winfree is himself absolutely confident of success and not only for himself but the whole ticket.

The fusion ticket is fortunate indeed in having such an experienced campaigner and trained leader to head the reform forces in the great movement of the people to place the affairs of the county in the hands of good and clean men. Let every Democrat of every shade of opinion do his full duty and the reform Republicans will join hands with them and do the rest.

POLITICS AND LOVE.

Closely Mixed Up in the Rockefeller-Aldrich Engagement.

Remarkable History of the Man Whose Daughter is to Wed the Young Millionaire—Began Life as a Grocer.

The son of the richest man in the United States is to marry the daughter of the most influential man in the American congress. This is the important phase, from a Washington standpoint, of the engagement of the son of John D. Rockefeller to the daughter of Senator Aldrich's daughter, Miss Abby. The announcement has been considered as a political news or business information—certainly it is not social intelligence. Neither the Rockefellers nor the Aldrichs care for the conventional diversions of society.

In many respects, says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, Aldrich is the most influential man in public service. His position assists in establishing the general proposition that the strongest men in congress are not lawyers. They are business men. As a grocer he began life. He became a wholesale grocer, and was not wholly successful. Taking a dip into local politics, he landed in the common council of the Rhode Island town of Providence. His promotion was gradual up to the state legislature, to the lower house of congress and to the United States senate.

He has become the executive leader of the senate. He is a member of that silent governing group of United States senators which McMillan, Platt (Conn.) Allison and Frye are members. He does things for those who fear what it is to do. No speeches come from him, and public statements he rarely makes; but his silent force never relaxes. With joyful enthusiasm he told Senator Hanna that he would support the shipping subsidy bill, but he proceeded to kill it.

On October 26, 1900, the Post published an article, written by its local correspondent, S. W. Linebaugh, charging Mr. Rhea and John W. Edwards, members of the County Board of Election Commissioners, with fraud and unfairness in the appointment of election officers for the various voting precincts of Logan county.—Herald-Leader.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR. (Engaged to Be Married to Senator Aldrich's Daughter.)

It, Hanna, as a republican leader in politics, could not dictate to the republican leader in congress. Mr. Aldrich is heartless when it comes to politics. With his keen hawklike eye, he sees his way. Friendships do not prove obstacles. His one master is business—no other orders bother him. But he is not a blindly unmitigated. There are silent forces in the senate which he is sensitive regards. He never forgets that he does not run counter to a republican leadership. This is best represented by the cautious and timid Allison. It is usually said that he uses Allison. It would be better to say that he frames his policies so that they will not offend Allison. He knows the Iowa statesman and his most intimate associates. Their opposition may not be adamant, when encountered, but it is as deep and wide as the earth. What matters whether the cannon ball is shattered against stone or buried in earth as long as it does not get through? Aldrich does not assault the conservative republican leadership of the senate. He works with it. The policy of the silent ruler he works out.

In his cold and emotionless way, Aldrich watches the dash, though inconspicuous, leadership of Aldrich. It is nothing short of inspiring and thrilling to the student of legislative management. So impressively successful is Aldrich that one is apt to run away with the idea that he is overpowering the great men of the senate. If one looks closer, it may be seen that he is working under their wing. His judgment is almost faultless, but he works, not as an individual in whom confidence is reposed, but as the representative of the ruling group.

Always does he discreetly present his own side—that of business, of commerce. When he establishes his own ideas he forces fearlessly ahead. But he does not with the consent of the recognized leadership. Without his associates he could not have the house could not have the voting majority of the senate. In him there is no great personal confidence. The greatest of all leaders, he leads with consent. He kept the original Porto Rican legislation at bay for years. He kept the American Protective Tariff League, after the republican leadership in the senate had consented to the programme. Far-sighted, robust and energetic, bold, cautious, masterful in ability to grasp and determine, he is a splendid executive, a great leader, for the governing leadership of the United States senate.

Senator Aldrich is a plain man, with simple tastes. In Washington he lives modestly and works at the trade of managing legislation incessantly. In the lobby of this hotel he may be seen almost any evening talking with newspaper correspondents and others.

JACK RUSSELL WOUNDED.

Shot While in Fight With Bolomen in Philippines.

Jack M. Russell, one of those reported seriously wounded in a battle with bolomen on the Island of Samar last Wednesday, is a son of Dr. E. P. Russell, of this city. He served through the Spanish-American War as a member of Company A, of Bowling Green, a portion of the Third regiment. When mustered out of the volunteer service he applied for admission to the regular army, but was turned down on account of a slight heart trouble.

Former Senator William Lindsay took up his case and succeeded in having him admitted to the army. He was assigned to the Ninth Infantry and has been in the Philippines for about two years.

Mr. Russell is a native of Todd county, but had been practicing law at Bowling Green before he joined the army. He was considered a fine lawyer and an unusually bright orator.

RHEA GETS $4,500.

The Post Failed Utterly to Prove Charges of Fraud.

The suit of T. S. Rhea against the evening Post came to an end in the Logan Circuit Court last Saturday with a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $4,500. Mr. Rhea's friends are congratulating him on his fine victory and on the completeness of his vindication.

On October 26, 1900, the Post published an article, written by its local correspondent, S. W. Linebaugh, charging Mr. Rhea and John W. Edwards, members of the County Board of Election Commissioners, with fraud and unfairness in the appointment of election officers for the various voting precincts of Logan county.—Herald-Leader.

RESTS IN HOPEWELL.

Body of John C. McDaniel Arrives And Is Reinterred.

The remains of John T. McDaniel arrived in the city Friday morning. The body was shipped from the Philippines about six weeks ago and reached San Francisco Oct. 10.

It was forwarded Oct. 11 from that place and arrived over the Illinois Central.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the home of the family, on South Main, by Rev. E. L. Southgate, in the presence of a large number of sorrowing friends of the deceased.

The local military company, who acted as an escort of the remains to Hopewell cemetery, fired the army salute of three rounds over the grave before the final prayer was said, after which the remains were consigned to their final resting place.

The pall bearers were Messrs. James Young, Dennis Shaw, Charles O. Prowse, Thomas Howell, Thomas Overhiser, Leslie Twyman, Robert C. Payne and Walter Howe.

WITHDREW TEN.

Force of Guards at Empire Cut to Twenty.

Assault Made On Providence Mines By a Band of Forty Armed Men.

An order was issued by Judge Analer Friday relating ten of the thirty guards at the Empire mines from further service and the men returned home and were paid off. The present force of men on duty will remain for a while to protect the miners and company's property.

Everything was reported quiet at the mines yesterday and there has been no evidence of lawlessness for a week.

Every effort has been made to discover the identity of the men who fired on Deputy C. J. Barcos and guard Landner from ambush as they were returning from Manington last Thursday, but without success.

Trouble at Providence.

Madison, Ky., Oct. 21.—A determined assault was made on the Providence mines in Webster county by a band of forty armed men late Saturday night. The tipple was surrounded and the shots were fired in from all sides. The guards finally forced the attacking party to retreat, but the fire was continued from the hills. The houses of the union miners near the Providence mines were also fired on. The Bowling Green and Owensboro companies of the State Guard left Madisonville for their homes yesterday.

Come Near Dying.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to bed and did not awake for eight hours. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of this remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say, 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.' This remedy is for sale by all druggists."

Col. Hay was driving to his farm, near that city. He was accompanied by his eighteen-month-old granddaughter and her nurse. In crossing the Louisville and Nashville double track his vehicle was struck. Col. Hay and the horse were knocked sixty feet and the vehicle was literally torn into splinters. The little girl and her nurse were caught on the cow catcher. The nurse fell off as the train slackened speed, but the child was carried almost three hundred yards, when the train was stopped and the engineer rescued her from her position. The little one suffered only slight injuries. The nurse was more painfully injured.

A THING OF BEAUTY

Is the Transparency of the Popular C. & O.

The popular Chesapeake and Ohio railway has recently gotten out some beautiful transparent pictures of the scenery along its line, and one of these famous views can be seen on the front window of the KENTUCKIAN office. It represents a view along the picturesque New River, where a large boulder, called "Standing Rock," is lodged just besides the double track, with the verdant mountains sloping gently to the valley. While looking backward the wonderful Blue Ridge mountains can be plainly seen. The passenger department has certainly made a hit with their instructive class of advertising.

Can You Afford To?

Can you afford to experiment with unknown and untried brands of Fertilizers, when you can get right here what you know to be good? Soils are of great variety, what suits your farm may not be adapted to your neighbor's. Experimenting may mean the loss of a crop, as well as the amount invested in Fertilizers. Every farmer knows Armour and Homestead, Eagle and Ox Brand Fertilizers. They are no experiment. Its Time to Put in Your Order Now if you want it to come forward with shipments for Early Fall seeding.
